

HIV TREATERS CASE CONFERENCE

2026 SERIES

Description

The HIV Treaters Case Conference Meetings are MATEC-WI's signature program for HIV care providers in Wisconsin, linking clinicians from across the state via Zoom for a one-hour, case-based discussion of current issues in HIV care and prevention. Facilitated by key leaders in HIV care, this community of practice features lively discussions of current issues in HIV care and are an important resource for both experienced and novice HIV providers. See page 2 for meeting dates and registration information.

Intended Audience

The target audiences for this activity are Wisconsin physicians, advanced practice nurses, physician assistants, nurses, pharmacists, social workers, case managers, and public health practitioners who provide prevention and care services to individuals with HIV infection. The clinician participants include both primary care providers and HIV or infectious disease specialists, including UW and non-UW clinicians, staff and clinical trainees.

Note: In order to preserve the legal protections afforded the peer review process, attendance at case conferences is limited to clinical providers who can contribute clinically and professionally.

Objectives

As a result of participation in this educational regularly scheduled series, learners will be able to:

- Apply new or improved skills related to the complex medical issues and recommended patient-centered treatment and prevention strategies for individuals with HIV infection or at risk for HIV infection.
- Recall the roles, responsibilities, and contributions of each HIV care team member in providing patient-centered care that addresses health disparities and values diversity.
- Demonstrate interprofessional collaboration, teamwork, communication, shared decision-making, and professionalism in the service of providing high quality patient-centered care.

Accreditation Statement

In support of improving patient care, the University of Wisconsin–Madison ICEP is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.
